The programme involves employers showcasing their industry as part of engaging interactive workshops delivered by our Skills Champions – young professionals who have competed in skills competitions at national or international level.

Each session can last up to two hours and includes:

- Industry insight from a local or national employer representative.
- An interactive workshop to try out the skills used in careers like engineering, media, IT, hospitality and construction.
- Skills Champion talks from young professionals on their journey into employment.

Why should employers get involved?

- Engage young people with your company in an enjoyable and interactive way and increase awareness of apprenticeship and traineeship schemes.
- Contribute to your staff CPD and wider company CSR strategy.
- Help address skills gaps locally and nationally by increasing interest in your industry.

WorldSkills UK champions world-class apprenticeships and technical skills. We do this by engaging young people in skills competitions, delivering experiential careers events, role modelling to challenge stereotypes and using our research to support the apprenticeship agenda. Our goals are to support business competitiveness, young people's employability and excellence in standards. WorldSkills UK brings together WorldSkills UK Competitions, The Skills Show and WorldSkills UK Champions.
